

Contents

Introduction

Introduction Elisa Vecchi	1
-------------------------------------	---

The Celts: an introductory case study on ethnicity

Celts: Art and Identity John Collis	9
---	---

From West to East: case studies on Ethnicity in the Iron Age Mediterranean

Ethnicity in Iron Age Iberia: theoretical reflections and case studies Manuel Fernández-Götz, Jesús R. Álvarez-Sanchis & Gonzalo Ruiz Zapatero	21
--	----

Celts and Greeks around Marseille: who's who? Loup Bernard	39
--	----

Who do we think they were? Changing identities in the wake of the Roman conquest of northwest Italy Sarah Scoppie	55
---	----

Do you think we are Etruscan? Recognition issues in the 6 th century BC Po valley Lorenzo Zamboni	77
--	----

Entangled identity markers at Osteria dell'Osa (Latium , central Italy) Sine Grove Saxkjær	97
--	----

To be or... NOT to be Liburnium: views on ethnicity in the Iron Age of the Eastern Adriatic Asja Tõnc	115
---	-----

The Early Iron Age in the Southern Carpathian Basin – the crossroads of identity Hrvoje Poterbica & Andrijana Pravidur	133
--	-----

Who do you think you are? And what good does it do you? The Arkadians as a case study of Greek ethnicities Jim Roy	157
---	-----

Epilogue

Epilogue: a critical appraisal of ethnic studies in the Iron Age Mediterranean Fabio Saccoccio	167
--	-----

Abstracts	195
------------------	-----

Addresses of contributors	195
----------------------------------	-----

Notes for authors	197
--------------------------	-----